To Whom It May Concern:

I am pleased to write a letter of recommendation for Pamela Wolf. I met Pamela in August of last year; she was hired to fill my position as I accepted a position as Common Core Teacher on Special Assignment. Pamela was hired just three days before school started and had three different classes to prepare for: English 9, Academic Enrichment, and Journalism. From the beginning, Pamela stood out to me as a very dedicated, capable, and enthusiastic teacher and colleague.

In my position this year as a Common Core TSA, I have enjoyed working with Pamela one-on-one to develop and tweak curriculum. Pamela has taken the shift to Common Core very seriously, developing Common Core aligned text sets and working hard to incorporate listening and speaking skills into daily activities. She has been actively collaborating with her English 9 subject-level team to develop Common Core skills-based assessments that all English 9 teachers use to assess students.

You can often find Pamela in her classroom during lunch, offering Homework Club for struggling students or working with Journalism students to finalize articles or update the newspaper website. Her first priority is student learning, and she truly gives this job 110%.

Pamela would be a great addition to any school because of her willingness to collaborate, her dedication to students, her enthusiasm, and her work ethic.

Please feel free to contact me with any further questions.

Sincerely,

Giana Lillig
