Let me first start by saying you are the "teacher angel". You are always the first to respond back to me. And I am forever grateful for your care and concern you've shown for Jacob (and all your students!). Jacob finally deciding to go to an acupuncturist was a decision based in part on your recommendation (though he did have to get over his phobia of needles to take that leap).

I am more than happy to get Jacob the film - - is it the original version with Gregory Peck that the class is watching?

I am wishing you a beautiful, shiny, peace-filled break. Thanks again, Pamela, for everything. Janet
